

history is about telling narratives

don't fall into cynical apathy!

think: will we struggle with applying modern framework to old sources?